Miss Jane Chamberlain, of New York, now in Europe, is declared to be the most beautiful American girl who has yet ap-peared at the English court.

There is a man in Green Bay who has taken his wife back three different times after she has eloped with other men. He likes her style or biscuit, probably. l'atent-leather meets with favor for ladies' summer shoes because it is cool, i not affecting by moisture at the seaside, and is easily cleaned of dust. It is only the rich who can stay home and enjoy their lawn dresses, cool verandas mext to impossible for pupils to hold their and pleasant rooms. The poor must go bodies in proper position for any length of away every summer or some one will say they haven't any money. A Wisconsin man bit off the lobe of his wife's ear. He said he did it in fun, but it is suspected that he had promised her a set of diamond earrings, and knew no other way of getting out of his dilemma.

The primitive palm-leaf fan has succumbed to the decorator's art, and is now colored sombre green or in dall blue, and ornamented with asthetic lilies or the 'gaudy leonine sunflower."

The flatly folded scarfs worn by gentle men are much used by ladies with their Norfolk jackets and tailor-made cheviot dresses. Those of foulard or pique are most liked for the present season.

California pearl-fisners gathered over $1,000,000 worth of the jewe's last year, and yet no one has heard any wore women cry out "Thank you!" when they roused a man out of his seat on the car.

A pair of jeweled garters sold in New York the other day for $2,000. That's pretty high. It will take a pretty tall girl to wear garters that come as high as that. Intense colors are limited to the accessories of summer toilets. The dresses themselves are of the most delicate tints, but hats, ribbons, glaves and h siery are of the glowing hars which are said to give character to the whole.

Currents and peaches are the fruits most used this season for millinery ornaments. The strawberries, grapes and cherries so fashionable last year have disappeared, but the fine white blossoms of fruit trees are the caprice of the moment for trimming dark straw bonnets.

One of the prettiest and newest berthas for the summer is of violet-tiated mull, upon which are appliqued natural-sized heartsease blossoms of gold and purple velvet. The edge of the bertha is bordered with violet-tinted Spanish lace.

Flower trimmings for elegant evening dress will be much employed this summer. not alone, as formerly, for corsage bou-quets, and for holding up the draperies here and there upon a skirt but also for borderings to the bottom of the dress, forming a wreath of flowers alone, or dotted at intervals amid the feathery fring-out ruching.

How many young ladies we daily meet who are pretty-some beautiful-who dress richly and with tate, and whose manners are apparently above reproach, until the wabbling of her mouth reveals the fact that she is chowing gum. Then all the charms she possessed yanish, and we observe only the rudeness of her habit.

A New Haven young lady was startled on Thursday by information from a stran-ger in the street that her hat was "all on fire." She took off her hat quicker than she ever did before, and found a hole had been burned in it twice as big as a silver dollar. It is supposed that a match dropped from an upper window caused the mischief.

Black jetted dresses are among the most Black jetted dresses are among the most distinguished of this season's toilets. They may be made of grenadine over foulard, of black nun's veiling over satin surah, of satin and Spanish lace, or any mixture of lace and satin preferred, but the materials must be light, soft and rich, and the trimming lace beaded with small cut jet, or fine, jetted fringe. Unless the jet is of the finest, it will overweigh the material. When made of rich materials and with taste, the costume being black throughout, the effect cannot be surpassed. the effect cannot be surpassed.

A Mendota editor's daughter read of the millionaire's daughter who received a gift of $25,000 from her father as the recognition of her ability in the preparation of a dinner. That day she determined to earn $25,000. She didn't know her paternal's financial status, and she over estimated her culinary ability; for when her father sat down to his repast, he found roast beef, done to death and unseasoned; coffee, muddy as the Missouri; potatoes, mashed unjacketed; and pie, sewed, pegged and double-soled. She has joined a broom brigade. A Mendota editor's daughter read of the

A circular on near-sightedness in schools is used by the bureau of education shows as the result of the examination of about 45,000 school-children that while this trouble of the eye is almost or wholly unknown among very young children, it steadily increases through the older classes until in the highest classes of the highest looks, transportation and distribution, so that this home supply may not in the least circle to the pupils. The Clown's Baby.

BY MARGRET VANDEGRUPT. It was out on the western frontier-The miners, rugged and brown, Were gathered around the posters; The circus had come to town! The great tent shone in the darkness,
Like a wonderful palace of light,
And rough men crowded the entranceShows didn't come every night!

Many a face that was bad, And some that were only vacant, And some that were very sad, And behind a canvas curtain, In a corner of the place, The clown, with chalk and vermillion,

Was "making up" his face.

A weary-looking woman, With a smile that still was sweet, Sewed on a little garment, With a cradle at her feet, Pantaloons stood ready and waiting; It was time for the going on, But the clown in vain searche; wildly; The 'property baby" was gone!

He murmured, impatiently hunting; "It's strange that I cannot find-There! I've looked in every corner; It must have been lef; behind!" The miners were stamping and shouting They were not patient men, The clown bent over the cradle

"I must take you, little Ben!" The mother started and shivered, But trouble and want were near,
She lifted her baby gently;
"You'll be very careful, dear?"
"Careful? You foolish darling"—
How tenderly it was said! What a smile shone through the chalk and paint—

"I love each hair of his head!" l'he noise rose into an uproar, Misrule for the time was king;
The clown, with a foolish chuckle,
Bolted into the ring, But as, with a squeak and flourish,

The fiddles closed their true. "You'll hold him as if he were made Said the clown to the pantaloon.

The jovial fellow nodded,
"I've a couple my elf," he said;
"I know how to handle 'em, b'ess you!
Old fellow, go ahead!" The fun grew fast and furious, And not one of alt the crown Had guessed that the baby was alive, When he suddenly laughed aloud.

Oh. that baby laughed! It was echoed From the benches with a ring, And the roughest customer there sprang up With: "Boys, it's the real thing! The ring was jammed in a minute,

Not a man that did not strive For "a shot at holding the baby!" That baby that was "alive!" He was thronged with kneeling suitors In the midst of the dust ring, And he held his court right royally— The fair little baby-king— Till ane of the shouting courtiers,

A man with a bold, hard face, The talk for miles of the country And the terror of the place, Raised the little king to his shoulder

And chuckled: "Look at that!"
As the chubby fingers clutched his hair—
Then: "Boys, hand round the hat!"
There never was such a hateful
Of silver, gold and notes;
People are not always penniless
Because they don't wear coats!

And then, "Three cheers for the baby!" I tell you, those cheers were meant: And the way in which they were given Was enough to raise the tent, And then there was a sudden silence, And a gruff old miner said: Come, boys, enough of this rumpus! It's time it was put to bed."

So, looking a little sheepish,
Ent with faces strangely bright,
The audience, somewhat lingeringly,
Florsed out into the night, And the bold-faced leader chuckled: "He wasn't a bit afraid! He's as game as he is good-looking— Boys, that was a show that paid!
